Volume 2, Issue 6

NDSCC's Aim

To bring like minded people together for social outings in their vehicles.

Next NDSCC Run - 19th July 2009

The next NDSCC club run is to be held on Sunday 19th July.

This run will be a mystery run as it was put together quickly by a couple of members to help John and Nicole out. It will be a short run with the meeting place and time the same - Centenary Lakes at 8.30am to leave at 9. It is a BYO morning tea and lunch. Hope to see you there as we are doing this for Nicole.

For those that don't know, Nicole suffered a heart attack on the 27th June and if not for John and a friend - who performed CPR - she wouldn't have had the help she needed to pull through. She is well on the way to recovery now and we hope to see her and everyone else on the next run.

Report on Run to MacGavin View - 21st June

Well, the day didn't start too well—weatherwise that is....

Polished up the "b" last night in preparation for an enjoyable run by our esteemed President. Weatherman on Saturday said "possible showers on Sunday", but that wasn't going to happen to OUR club—it never rains on our outings, or so I thought. Well it did!!! Just as we were thinking about leaving, it started to rain, so we abandoned plan "B" and switched to plan "P" (for Prado). A popular choice as it turned out—other members more experienced in the vagaries of our climate had also opted for their modern alternative.

Arriving at Centenary Lakes, the rain had stopped by then, and it looked like it might fine up, at least that was the feeling amongst some optimistic fellow members. Some new faces were welcomed, and then El Presidente, giving a good imitation of a benevolent dictator got us moving by starting (ordering?) us off at strict one minute intervals— together with a route sheet and a list of questions. Whew! So much paperwork—thought I'd left that behind years ago.

Anyway, with the usual noise coming from near the passenger seat—"don't go too fast I can't see the numbers", and "how can I read the instructions when you're hitting so many bumps" we meandered our way along Bellmere Rd, past the dog pound—which incidentally I feel could be a second home for me because of the amount of time I spend in the doghouse, but I digress. Continuing down Bellmere

Road, was uncharted territory for me and very picturesque and pleasant. Continuing on through parts of Rocksberg, Moorina and Morayfield that I never knew existed, we came back to some familiar scenery in Narangba, before taking off again to what would be a fantastic picnic spot at the McGavin View on Lake Samsonvale. According to Keith Downie, he had requested the lake to be filled for our run, but unfortunately didn't tell the powers that be to stop filling on this particular day—nevertheless the minimal shelter and gusty wind promoted a great deal of togetherness to keep dry(ish) and battle over the second set of questions (more paperwork) to complete the rally. Which incidentally I won!!

Although the run was a little shorter than planned and the weather was less than ideal, it couldn't dampen our spirits, and gave us a bit more time to mix and mingle.... And isn't that what we're all about.

Two Italians on a bus

A bus stops and 2 Italian men get on. They sit down and engage in an animated conversation.

The lady sitting next to them ignores them at first, but her attention is galvanized when she hears one of them say the following.

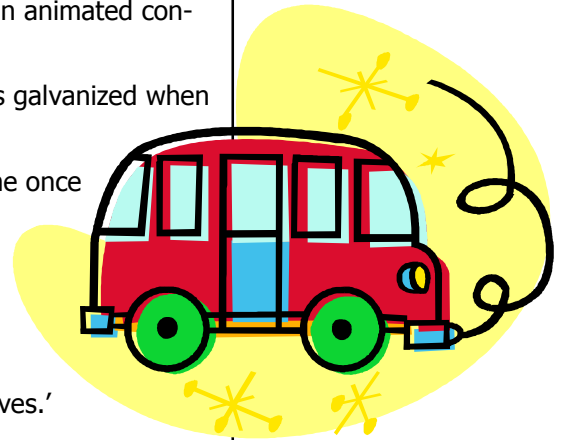

Emma come first. Den I come. Den two asses come together. I come once -a-more! Two asses, they come together again. I come again and pee twice. Then I come one lasta time.'

The lady can't take this any more.

You foul-mouthed sex obsessed pig' she retorted indignantly.

'In this country, we don't speak aloud in public places about our sex lives.'

'Hey, coola down lady' said the man, Who talking' about sex? I'm a justa telling my friend how to spell 'Mississippi'

Another mystery solved

For centuries, Hindu women have worn a dot on their foreheads. Most of us have naively thought this was connected with marriage or religion, but the Indian High Commission in Canberra has recently revealed the true story.

When a Hindu women gets married, she brings a dowry into the union. On her wedding night, the husband scratches off the dot to see whether he has

- A – Taxi license in Adelaide
- B – Convenience store in Melbourne
- C – Service station in Perth
- D - Kebab shop in Brisbane
- E – Take-away café in Sydney.

If there is nothing there, he must take a job in India giving technical advice for Telstra and Optus.

Mick and Patty

Two Irishmen were doing some carpentry work on Mick's house

Paddy, who was nailing down house siding, would reach into his nail pouch, would pull out a nail and either toss it over his shoulder or nail it in.

Mick, figuring this was worth looking into asked 'Why are you throwing those nails away'?

Paddy explained, "When I pull a nail out of my pouch about half of them have the heads on the wrong end, so I throw them away.

Mick got very upset and said "Those nails aren't defective!

They're for the other side of the house!

What' your IQ?

A man enters a bar and orders a drink. The bar has a robot barman. The robot serves him a perfectly prepared cocktail, and then asks him "What's your IQ"

The man replies "150" and the robot proceeds to make conversation about global warming factors, Quantum physics and spirituality, bio-mimicry, environmental interconnectedness, string theory, nanotechnology and sexual proclivities.

The customer is very impressed and thinks, "This is really cool." He decides to test the robot. He walks out of the bar, turns around, and comes back in for another drink.

Again the robot serves him the perfectly prepared drink and asks him "What's your IQ" The man responds, "About 100".

Immediately the robot starts talking, but this time about league, Holdens, racing, the new BIG Mac, tattoos, Jennifer Hawkins and women in general.

Really impressed, the man leaves the bar and decides to give the robot one more test. He heads out and returns, the robot serves him and asks, "What's your IQ". The man replies, "Err, 25, I think." And the robot says....real slowly..."So.....are ya gonna vote for Kevin again?"
